

Toolkit assists with strategic planning

For many business owners strategic planning can be a slow, painful job that can end up in the 'too hard' basket.

Now strategic business consultant, Damian D'Cruz, has the answer with his Bisvision do-it-yourself strategy planning toolkit – featuring 174 smart questions to focus your thinking.

Bisvision takes you through a three-step process as you put together a vision and strategy for your business: where you are now; where you want to be; and how to get there.

Simply answer the questions using the Bisvision software and it delivers a unique, tailored strategy for your business.

D'Cruz has more than 12 years business consulting experience and jokes that he's invented himself out of a job with this kit.

"Bisvision now makes strategic planning accessible for lots of businesses that would otherwise not do it at all."

To learn more visit www.bisvision.com